TUTORING

Date: November 12, 2002

---

The Professional Standards Commission establishes standards for tutoring students through the Code of Ethics for Educators.

Educators employed by the Board of Education may enter into an agreement with parents for tutoring children for a fee, provided this agreement is not made with the parents of students for whom they are presently teaching. It is incumbent upon a teacher to assist students in their classes whenever feasible. An exception for tutoring one's own student will be considered by the Board of Education when it can be shown that no other tutorial service is available.

The Columbia County Board of Education prohibits the use of school/system facilities for the use of remunerative tutoring.
